Welcoming New Staff

Missoula County Public Schools has created two new positions in the Native American Student Services Department for the 2023-2024 school year. The new staff members are Billie Jo Juneau who is the NASS Department Coordinator and Sara Ibis who will be joining the department as the Indian Education for All (IEFA) Instructional Coach.

NASS Coordinator, Billie Jo Juneau

Ok! My name is Billie Jo Juneau. I am an enrolled member of the Blackfeet tribe. I am the MCSP Native American Student Service Coordinator. I previously worked as an Assistant Principal at Sentinel High School for two years. Prior to working for MCPS I worked for Browning Public Schools. I started out as a Science teacher but eventually moved into administration (building and district). I have been in education for nearly 18 years.

In 2015, I took a sabbatical and moved to Missoula to work on my Masters degree in Educational Leadership. I fell in love with the area and the people. I was also sold on the lack of wind here (If you are familiar with the weather in Browning, MT, then you know about the wind) and I would not have to commute nearly 80 miles every day (I lived in Babb, MT). Missoula had so many things to offer. I knew I wanted to come back.

With a few years of administrative experience under my belt, I applied for a position at MCPS. Like many people out there, I had a hard time leaving the Reservation. I was leaving everything I had ever known. Initially, I told myself it was to give my kids (Luke, Jude, Lillie, Joliann) opportunities that they would not have back home. Now, after being here a couple of years I see how important it is to help our Native American students develop their cultural identity and to educate all students about Montana Native American history and culture.

I am excited for a great school year. Please reach out if you have any great ideas you would like to see from our department this year. My email is bjuneau@mcpsmt.org.

IEFA Instructional Coach, Sara Ibis

Hi, I'm Sara Ibis. I am the new Instructional Coach in the Native American Student Services Department. I'll be helping teachers use Indian Education for All (IEFA) in their classrooms, and developing curriculum and lessons aligned to Indian Education for All. I've been teaching elementary school in Missoula since 2017, and before that I taught in Lolo and Minneapolis, Minnesota. I'm also a certified Montana Master Naturalist. I'm passionate about place-based learning and using the landscape, history and culture of a place to inspire students to be future leaders of our community. Outside of school, I volunteer for the Owl Research Institute and I'm an avid birder. I enjoy trail running, going to Griz games, and watching horror movies. My partner, Andrew, is a mental health therapist and we have two dogs, Dez and Bill.

NASS Visiting MCPS Elementary Schools

This fall, the MCPS Native American Student Services Department has been visiting elementary schools throughout the district to share culturally informed lessons. In September, we shared round dancing with the students at Paxson and Chief Charlo. In October, we visited these same schools and shared lessons on traditional foods with a focus on foods harvested from the land and water.

In November, we will be visiting elementary schools to share a deeper understanding of the bison and its significance to Montana tribes. With winter approaching we will turn our focus to storytelling in December.

Stay tuned for these to hear more about these presentations, as we continue to foster cultural awareness and appreciation within MCPS Native elementary schools.
