From the Principal's Office:

Lewis & Clark Families.

In the blink of an eye, we find ourselves in May! It has been an incredible year of learning, growing, and supporting each other. We often think of the final weeks of the school year as a time to wind down. I challenge you, however, to view this time to get a jump start on all that the future has in store for us.

In the coming weeks, students will have the opportunity to participate in the first phase of our Zero Waste Project as we begin recycling and composting in the lunchroom, enjoy heart healthy activities in our annual Field Day and get some summer reading books at our Bookin' Into Summer event. We also have our 4th and 5th graders putting on the Talent Show, Service Club's Mission Possible Project, and Service Club helping to enhance our recycling program and raising funds for kids and families in Ukraine. I am so proud of all the wonderful activities our students, teachers & families embrace at Lewis & Clark, especially as we bring a year to a close.

We look forward to these special events and sharing them with all of you. Please be sure to stop in or join one of these activities. Have a wonderful month and enjoy the sunshine! -Alanna

Counselor's Corner: A Note from Ms. Myers

Social Emotional Learning in the Summer

Social-emotional learning doesn't stop when the school year does; in fact, summer presents many opportunities for kids to continue to strengthen their SEL skills! Social-emotional learning encopasses skills including self-awareness, social-awareness, self-management, relationships, and responsible decision making.

Here are just a few ideas of how your family can practice SEL this summer.

- Play games: games help us practice teamwork, communication, and kindness.
- Write sidewalk messages: write positive messages and positive self-talk statements.
- Spend time outside: walking in the garden or neighborhood is a chance to practice mindfulness, breathing, and coping skills.
- Read-alouds: books are full of opportunities to talk about problem solving, emotions (what zone are the characters in), and social skills.

Story telling/writing/drawing: give your kids an SEL topic and let the creativity flow! Stories could be about kindness, courage, or perseverance. Take turns sharing.

Have a beautiful, rested, connected summer! Be sure to reach out before break if you'd like more ideas about incorporating SEL into your summer.

LOST & FOUND

SPRING INTO Spring is upon us! With it comes lots of exciting events, sports, schedule changes, and special projects. It's a time of year when these fun changes make it even more important to stay consistent with the foundations in our children's learning. Children's learning thrives onconsistency and predictability. When things get busy, making sure they arrive at school on time and have a regular reading routine every afternoon are important factors as they continue their learning. We know children often lose learning over the summer, so we want to keep a strong reading plan in place through the entire school year (and into the summer—but more on that next month!). That way we can make the most of the time we have in school and set our kiddos up for success! - Christy Meurer, Reading Interventionist

Thank you all so much for your participation in our first Jog-a-thon/Lynx Spirit FUN RUN event. It was by far the most successful fundraiser L&C has seen.

The Jog-a-thon raised about $35,000 for Lewis and Clark, enabling the PTA to honor all spring funding requests for teachers classrooms and programming, totaling $5627.90.

We are also in the process of finding a suitable electronic reader board for the school.

which will be paid for by the monies raised from

Jog-a-thon.

Mrs. Sharkey's 1st grade class created scientific models of their favorite wild animals that they considered resilient and adaptable to survive. The students and their animals marched in the Wild Walk Parade on April 22nd!

This is the 25th year Mrs. Sharkey's students have created animals and participated in this Missoula community parade—Wow!

Special Thanks to the parent volunteers who helped the kids create!

May is Bike Month!

Join Lewis & Clark's celebration of National Bike Month by encouraging your kids to ride their bikes, scooter or walk to school. Or better yet, join them!

Thursday, May 26th – Bike to School 8:00-8:25 AM (on playground before school)

Kids who walk or roll to school will receive a charm and a treat.

There are many species of ticks capable of transmitting a variety of bacterial, viral, and parasitic illnesses to humans and other mammals.

PROTECT YOURSELF:

- Use insect repellent (at least 20 % DEET) and wear protective clothing to prevent ticks from making you their next meal. Early recognition and treatment of tick-borne infections significantly decreases the risk of serious complications
- Inspect yourself, other family members and pets after being outdoors
- Shower off after being outdoors to wash off ticks and more easily spot ticks

Inquiry Corner with Kari Henderson

What is the 5th Grade Exhibtion?

In the final year of the PYP, students carry out an extended, in-depth, collaborative project known as the PYP exhibition.

Fifth grade students work collaboratively to conduct an in-depth inquiry into real life issues, problems, or interests. Students collectively synthesize all of the essential elements of the PYP in ways that can be shared with the whole school community.

The exhibition provides teachers with a powerful and authentic process to assess student understanding.

The exhibition represents a unique and significant opportunity for students to exhibit the attributes of the IB learner profile developed throughout their engagement with the PYP.

It also provides schools and students with a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the transition of learners to the next phase of their education.

Lewis and Clark fifth graders participate in the exhibition each spring. This year, our amazing fifth graders will be exploring the transdisciplinary theme, "How we express ourselves" with a focus on the central idea of, "Personal identity and experience embodies human expression." The exhibition will take place on June 2nd, in the morning, on the front lawn. More information to follow.
