REMOTE LEARNING IN MAY AND JUNE

Thank you for supporting your student's remote learning from home. We want to be clear that these are our core values during this period of remote learning:

Health
Before
Homework

Learning
Before
Letter
Grades

Family
Frustration

We know that parents and students are doing the best that they can in the current circumstances. We know that learning and "getting by" looks different for every family. Please know that we all care deeply about your children and your families and we appreciate your partnership very much.

The most important thing right now is your family's health and well-being. Please use your judgment about your child's degree of participation in on-line learning on any given day and communicate with your child's teacher(s) if and when you are opting not to have your child participate in a day's lessons so they can assist in honoring your family's decision.

There are no penalties for lack of participation in any of these activities. Our goal is to keep your students engaged through the end of May to avoid a loss of learning and to keep your students involved in the process of learning.

TEACHERS WILL END NEW INSTRUCTION ON FRIDAY MAY 29TH.

Later this month we will provide more detailed information about activities in June that include:

- Virtual classroom wrap-up meetings with your student's teacher
- Opportunities to pick up your student's personal belongings from school.
- Opportunities for students to review and receive interventions and enrichments from their classroom teacher

Forward Thinking, High Achieving.
