Why We do Senior Projects

Big Sky wants its students to leave here prepared to determine what they want from their lives; whether that is a career, skill, or experience, and feel confident that they have the ability to achieve their goals. Students need to be able to foster connections and create professional relationships outside the classroom. In order to do this, students need practice and guidance in creating plans, managing roadblocks, setbacks and deadlines. Senior Projects is an opportunity for students to experience managing responsibilities and priorities predominantly on their own. We want our students to feel that when they are confronted with stress and uncertainty after high school, Big Sky has given them the tools to move forward.

Big Sky Mission Statement:

To inspire and educate students to be curious, critical thinkers who strengthen our communities.

The Learning Targets of Senior Project are:

- ❑ I can choose a project that excites me and shows a learning stretch, which is the process of gathering new information or skills above and beyond what I already know.
- ❑ I can approach an adult I may or may not know and maintain professional communication in person, on the phone, and through email while completing my Senior Project. Specifically with my advisor and my mentor.
- ❑ I can create a realistic time table, and think ahead in order to complete all components of my senior project.
- ❑ I can complete a lengthy project that is outside of my regular coursework, has multiple stages and requirements, and either furthers my own post secondary goals or gives back to my community.
- ❑ I can complete post-secondary worthy pieces of writing, revise and edit to hone good communication skills.
- ❑ I can learn to organize, plan and complete necessary steps (forms, paperwork, etc.) to meet my goals and keep all necessary documentation in a professional portfolio.
- ❑ I can ask for help from my advisor, mentor, teachers, or Senior Project Coordinators in a timely manner when I have a problem or hit a roadblock and not just quit.
- ❑ I can present my project in a confident, clear and engaging presentation to an audience.

Components of the Senior Project

- Students will produce post-secondary worthy pieces of writing that involve editing, feedback and revision.
- Students will choose what they believe is their best piece to be submitted to the grading committee as their portfolio paper.
- The grading committee, will give this revised paper a new score, which will be an additional score in English.

The Learner Profile and VIPs

Big Sky is an IB World School and committed to providing a well rounded education for our students. The IB Learner Profile is a part of this process. The four components of the Senior Project meet the learner profile in several ways:

The Portfolio Paper asks that students are inquirers by determining topics that are of interest to them, and use written communication to grow as thinkers critically and creatively.

The Activity Field Experience asks that students be open-minded to new possibilities and avenues, balance their work loads and schedules and interact with the community through professional, principled communication. Learning to work with others, and be active members in the community also expands students understanding of what it means to be a caring member of a community, and encourages them to be risk-takers by trying something new, going outside of their comfort zone and engaging with people they do not know.

The Portfolio asks that students be reflective of a long and involved process so they can evaluate their strengths moving forward. It asks students to be organized and provide physical evidence of their best attributes as a student; something they can use after graduation in their future endeavors.

The Presentation asks that students - who through this process have become risk-takers and knowledgable about their chosen topic – present to the public. This final piece also ties in communication, reflection, and a chance to share the students' inquiry process with others.

VIPs –

Senior Project Advisor – In terms of keeping yourself and your paperwork on track the advisor fulfills a crucial role. The advisor must be a BSHS staff member. They will:

- *Read your Proposal and approve your project.
- *Fill out Semester 1 Timeline and Advisor Check-In and keep you on track with your paperwork.
- *Grade your Portfolio and Reflection Paper

Mentor - Your mentor is neither a Big Sky staff member nor a relative, but is someone outside the school who has expertise in the field of your project topic. When choosing a mentor try to find someone you can easily get in contact with, and who will be able to verify your work at the end of the project. The Mentor may not be a family member. The goal of a mentor is learning to seek out and create professional partnerships in your community.

Senior Project Coordinating Team – The Senior Project coordinators work with the seniors, the advisors, the BSHS staff members, the parents, the community, and the administration to guide each senior toward a successful Senior Project. The coordinators are also responsible for organizing and scheduling the presentations. They will collect all forms. They are: Meleina Helmer, Abby Green and Melissa Lapka. They are friendly and know everything – so ask them if you need help 😊

English Teacher – Senior English teachers guide you through the writing process. Strong communication is a crucial aspect of post high school success, and the various papers you will write aim to provide varied ways to practice multiple communication styles. You will write three specific papers with multiple drafts throughout the year. You will pick what you feel is the best of those three to submit to the grading committee as your Portfolio Paper. This paper must score a passing grade, and will receive a separate grade in your English class. In order to pass second semester of Senior English (which is a graduation requirement), you must pass the Senior Paper.

Government Teacher – Government teachers review Senior Project presentation requirements and guide you through the preparation for your presentation. Your presentation score will be included in your government grade. You must pass your presentation in order to pass second semester government and walk in graduation.

NOTE:

No matter who you are, or what you do once you graduate from Big Sky – you will need to be able to communicate what you need to other people.

USE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO GET GOOD AT THIS IN A PLACE WHERE PEOPLE CARE ABOUT YOU!

There are a lot of people on this list you can go to for help – make sure you use them as a resource.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Is the Senior Project required for graduation from Big Sky?

A: Yes ☺

Q: Can I start my project during the summer of my Junior year?

A: Yes – however there are minimum hour requirements during your Senior year that you must meet. You must fill out a form and get your project approved by the Senior Project Committee before you can continue. You must also complete the Paper, Portfolio, and Presentation during your Senior year.

Q: How will the Senior Project be evaluated?

A: Your Portfolio Paper grade will be attached to Sem. 2 of Senior English
You must have a passing Portfolio in order to be scheduled for Presentation Day.
Your Presentation grade will be attached to Sem. 2 of Government.
You must pass your Presentation (and all prior components) to graduate.

Q: What if I am a student with special circumstances?

A: Special circumstances and modifications will be handled as follows:

- a. Students with an IEP or 504: If you are a student who has an IEP/504, you are required to complete the Senior Project. Accommodations needed to complete the Senior Project will be addressed through your IEP/504 process.
- b. Transfer students: If you are a transfer student to Big Sky before or during your senior year, you are required to complete a Senior Project. You will work with a Senior Project coordinator to plan and implement a Senior Project which can be successfully completed in the given time frame.
- c. Extenuating circumstances: If unusual circumstances should arise, they will be dealt with on a case-by-case basis by the Senior Project Review Committee.
- d. Early graduates: If you are planning to graduate early, you are required to complete a Senior Project. You should also meet with the Senior Project Coordinator early in your senior year so that you can set up a plan to complete all components by early graduation in January.

Q: Who pays for costs associated with my Senior Project?

A: You do. This is one of the things you must consider when you're planning your project budget. For example, instead of building a house that you designed, you could draw the blue prints and/or build a model of the house. Try not to let cost restrict your ideas for your Senior Project. Instead, use your imagination and discover a way to do your ideal Senior Project with minimal expense. Discuss your project budget with your parents, advisor and mentor.

Q: Can two or more students work together on a Senior Project?

A: On the activity field experience, yes. However, prior to the start of the activity field experience the student team must clearly differentiate each student's responsibilities in each student's Letter of Intent/Proposal to the advisors. Additionally, each student must meet all the requirements of his or her individual Senior Project, write his/her own papers, prepare his/her own portfolio, and do his/her own presentation. If you plan to complete the activity component together with someone else, please plan carefully and work closely with your advisors to develop an acceptable Senior Project. Both students must meet with a Senior Project Coordinator prior to beginning the activity component.

Q: Can I use my APS science project /IB Diploma project/ BI project as a Senior Project?

A: Yes. Further information is found on the Planning and Three Pathways section of this handbook.

Q: Can I leave school to work on my project and/or meet with my mentor?

A: You can, providing you follow these rules:

- ✓ You may leave campus only if your parent or guardian communicates with the attendance office.
- ✓ Use your senior study hall time wisely: schedule meetings with your advisor and mentor, work on your research, get help on your activity component, your portfolio, and/or your presentation during this time.
- ✓ You may leave school to work on your Senior Project during lunch or study hall period. Have a parent make arrangements with the attendance office to do so.
- ✓ You may not miss a class to work on your Senior Project. A mentor or advisor is not authorized to give you a pass to miss a class!

Q: What happens if I do not pass my Portfolio Paper?

A: Your Portfolio Paper is a paper you have already written, and presumably already passed 😊 Therefore, when you choose to submit your best paper you will be able to make edits to present the best paper possible. If your paper comes back from the independent graders with an unsatisfactory score you will have time to make edits and work with your English teacher to get a satisfactory score. You must have a passing score to pass second semester of Senior English.

Q: Can I change my project?

A: Yes, you can change your project but you MUST meet with your advisor and get approval. You will need to fill out a NEW Proposal Form and keep all materials from both projects in your portfolio and explain in your presentation, the reasons for the change.

Q: What happens if my project is not completed, is derailed by forces outside my control, or does not go as planned?

A: That is okay! First thing to do is meet with your advisor and make a plan to get your project back on track, or make changes as needed. Don't give up! The goal is to get the experience and practice going through this process.

Senior Project Commandments:

1. SAVE EVERYTHING – every scrap of paper, napkin, picture, receipt, email etc. Anything that is even remotely connected to your project should be saved. That includes ALL drafts of your papers AND the final evaluation of your Portfolio Paper.
2. Update time logs frequently so you can keep track of your work. TAKE PICTURES OF YOUR PROCESS!!!!
3. Keep all of your work for your portfolio in ONE place so you don't lose any of it.

Proposal Requirements

The Proposal is first step in moving forward with your chosen topic. It has two parts. BOTH MUST be completed, signed and turned in before you can continue with your project.

Part I: Letter of Intent: To introduce yourself to your advisor, and explain why you want to do this project, what gave you the idea, and what you hope to take away from this project. This is a broad overview, more about you and your ideas than the actual details of the project.

- 1 pg typed professional letter – signed by you.

Part II: Form: Articulate what exactly you plan to do from start to finish of your project so that your advisor has clear idea of all aspects of your plan. This is where you get into the nitty gritty – and go step by step.

- Form found in this packet – to be filled in completely.

Requirements for Part I – Letter of Intent:

- It is a formal letter describing:
 - a. Who you are (even if you know your advisor well), and what about you has led you to your project. Are you pursuing something you have dabbled in before? Are you a studious music student who wants to try something totally new by learning judo? Explain to your advisor why/how you have chosen your topic area, and how you decided on your project.
 - b. What you hope to get out of the process: skills, experience, a finished product or certain dollar amount if you are doing a fundraiser, etc.
 - c. Your understanding that this project is a reflection of you as a student and as a learner, and your commitment to completing all parts of the Senior Project to the best of your ability on time.
- Your letter should be formal (no slang, contractions, good grammar etc.), but should sound like you and be engaging and interesting to read.
- You do NOT have to know everything about your plan in your letter, but you should demonstrate enough of a plan that your advisor knows the major aspects of your project. Also, it is a letter of intent – so it is assumed that many things may change in the actual process.
- Be sure to include a final copy and any drafts (proof of writing progress) in your Portfolio.

Dear Mrs. Helmer,

← Salutation to Advisor followed by double space

Hello. My name is Autumn Schnell and I am excited to begin my Senior Project with you as my Advisor. I am one of those students who decide nearly every other day to change my plan for my future. I just cannot seem to find one thing I want to do, and the thought of having to choose right now, before I have even started my senior year quite frankly, gives me a headache. Therefore, I feel that I need to choose a project that I know will be interesting, and will likely be of use to me in my future – whatever I decide to do.

I would like to learn how to use several software programs for the purpose of Public Relations. Although I am pretty good on my phone, can type a paper on Word, and make a Prezi, I feel there are many other areas I can increase my skills to actually deliver a product that might in turn create business or raise awareness. Specifically, I would like to learn InDesign, Photoshop, and some basic web design (I have yet to choose a platform but I am investigating two or three that look promising) in order to advertise the schools sporting and artistic events. I will create flyers for each game/event which will necessitate working closely with several different groups of individuals, and a great deal of time management. I will also connect with the school Facebook page and twitter accounts to raise awareness not only with posters and ads, but also with social media. I plan to put my posters up around the school, and attempt to have them published in the local paper, and at several venues around town where students and families are likely to see them. I will also create a website specifically for events. My ultimate goal is to provide enough coverage that all events that take place at the school see an increase in attendance by students and community members. I also hope to solicit pictures, artwork, video, and sound bites from fellow students to include in my work. Hopefully, this endeavor will be successful and another student will be able to continue on after I leave.

In order for this project to be successful I will need to plan my time carefully, communicate effectively with all parties involved, and remain professional. I understand that this is my project, and although I will rely on others, it is up to me to complete this project to the best of my ability and with integrity. I am excited to begin this process, and I appreciate your support going forward.

Guidelines for Planning Your Project

- As you do your activity field experience, you will be asked to “stretch” your learning: intellectually, physically and/or emotionally beyond what you already know or can do.
- You must display or demonstrate your activity field experience during your Senior Project presentation in May.
- You must complete at least 20 to 30 hours (depending on the Pathway you choose) of documented work for your activity field experience.
- Your activity field experience may consist of more than one part or event.
- The “Activity Field Experience Verification Form” can be completed by your mentor or the person you did most of your activity component hours with. It is best if this person is your mentor, but sometimes you will work with a different person and consult only with your mentor.
- Keep records of what you do. You will include them in your portfolio as evidence of completion of your activity component. You could use more than one of the following methods for recording what you accomplish.
 - Keep emails, notes from interviews, pamphlets, handbooks, etc.
 - Keep a journal
 - Write detailed notes on a calendar
 - Take pictures or video of your progress
 - Keep interview and research notes
 - Keep sales receipts
- Use calendars to set up a timeline; this helps with time management.
- Monitor your progress . . . don’t fall behind. Procrastination has a price!
- Back up your files and disks; save all files to at least two different locations.
- A flash drive AND Google Docs AND your student drive work well for backing up files.
- Keep your mentor in the loop; his or her expertise and wisdom are based on real life experience and are valuable. Meet or call your mentor on a regular basis.
- Keep your Senior Project advisor in the loop. Meet with your advisor frequently and keep them updated.
- ALWAYS Demonstrate proof of progress!
- There are many options for your activity field experience. You might choose to:
 - Make something: for example, a painting, a model, an outfit, a computer program, a woodworking project, or an engine
 - Perform something: for example, a song, a dance, a documentary, or a fashion show
 - Write something: for example, a short story, a book of poetry, a short novel, newspaper articles, or a memoir
 - Teach something: for example, to children, to senior citizens, to a Little League team, or to your peers
 - Explore a career: for example, complete a job shadow and do something with the knowledge you gain such as teach a class or create a pamphlet or poster to be used by an organization
 - Learn a new skill: for example, take a class in photography, scuba diving, or watercolor painting.

Mentor Information

The Mentor's purpose is to help you with your project. They are a professional in their field so they are the first place to go for information, answers, connections, and general help. Not all projects are the same, so not all students will use their Mentors in the same way. Some students may rely on their mentor very little, or only at the start of their project, while other students may work closely with their mentor throughout the entire process.

Regardless, there are some things to keep in mind when looking for a mentor:

1. They are not a family member – you need to stretch your wings and learn to contact people you do not know at all, or do not know well.
2. They are professionals in their field, and have experience related to your project. Keep in mind, you might not be able to find a mentor for exactly what you are doing, but can find one to help you with an aspect of your project.
3. They are taking time away from their jobs to assist you. You need to be clear with them about what you need from them. You need to be flexible with your time and make every effort to meet with them when they are available. You need to maximize your time with them, by coming to every meeting prepared and ready to work.

Tips for Cold Calling to get a Mentor or set up a Job Shadow:

1. Do your research, and find a couple of names and numbers of people you may want to contact to be your mentor. Google an occupation, cruise around town and look at business and go in and talk to the people at the front desk, ask family members, teachers and your advisors for ideas.
2. If you have a phone number, make your first contact a phone call. If you only have an email address, then send the email; but an actual conversation is always preferable and more memorable.

Troubleshooting:

1. I followed all the steps and the contact has not returned my call or gotten back to me like they said they would.

Wait one week for them to respond. If they have not responded then call again (leave a voicemail if appropriate) and send an email as well. BE POLITE and CLEAR in your messages. Do not make demands and make your messages short, and to the point. They may be very busy – you need to keep yourself on their radar, but not annoy or overwhelm them.

It might be prudent to make contact with another person who is your second option during this time just in case. If your original contact does come through, as does your second then yay for you! You have twice the help and advice. If not, then you haven't wasted all this time and have to start over much later.

Continue to try to make contact every four to five days – if you hear nothing after three weeks speak to your advisor and consider that this person may be a dead end.

2. No matter what I try I keep running into a dead end.

Speak to your advisor about adjusting your goals or you plan – DO NOT JUST GIVE UP!
Also, do not wait to let you advisor know you are struggling. The more proactive you are, the less stressed you will be.

Cold Call Script: Keep in mind this script is a suggestion to give you some ideas of what to say – you do not have to repeat it word for word 😊

“Hello! My name is _____ and I am a student at Big Sky High School. I was hoping to speak to you about being a Mentor for my Senior Project. Do you have time to speak to me now or would you prefer I contact you at another time?

(If they say they have time) Great thank you! So all Seniors at Big Sky are required to fulfill a Senior project. I have chosen Pathway _____ which means I need to __ (explain the pathway and your project – BRIEFLY).

I am hoping that you would be willing to act as my Mentor for this project. The Mentors role is to help guide me in the process with any advice or help you deem appropriate. I would appreciate any help you would be willing to give me. I have a document I can send you that provides more details about your role.

(If they say that sounds like a plan and they are willing to help) Fantastic! Could we schedule a time to meet to go over specifics and have you sign the Mentor Contract?

(If they say they DO NOT have time) No problem! Is there a better time to contact you or would you prefer an email with my contact information?

General Advice:

1. Make sure to be calm, and call them in a quiet place with no distractions.
2. Give them your best contact information (first AND last name – phone number and email) and get THEIR best contact information (first AND last name – phone number and email)
3. Be polite and flexible
4. The FIRST TIME you meet with them, take the Mentor Contract and get it signed!!! That way you don’t have to track them down later.

Portfolio Paper Guidelines

Your English teacher will outline in great detail the specific guidelines for each of the three papers you will complete as part of your Senior English curriculum. The Portfolio Paper you choose from those three to submit will still follow those guidelines, and will be between 1,000 to 1,500 words and double spaced.

Plagiarism is not acceptable!

Plagiarism is just plain cheating. It is using someone else's words or ideas in your paper as if they were your own. If you copy someone else's work on purpose, you know that it is wrong. However, if you do not understand how to cite another person's work and accidentally plagiarize, you may still get accused of cheating. This is one good reason to learn quotation mechanics and how to effectively use MLA.

The following examples should give you some ideas about the differences between research paper writing and plagiarism. First, here is an example of original reference material from Walter Allen's The English Novel, New York: Dutton, 1954, followed by three student versions. Only Version C is correct!

Original material:

Wuthering Heights is the most remarkable novel in English. It is perfect, and perfect in the rarest way: it is the complete bodying forth of an intensely individual apprehension of the nature of man and life. That is to say, the content is strange enough, indeed baffling enough, while the artistic expression of it is flawless (Allen 223).

Student Version A:

The most remarkable novel in English is Wuthering Heights. It brings forth an individual apprehension of the nature of man and life; therefore, it is perfect in the rarest way. The artistic expression is flawless, but the content is strange, indeed baffling.

This is clearly plagiarized. The student has copied the original almost word for word, and there is no attempt to indicate what has been copied or where it was found.

Student Version B:

Wuthering Heights is a great English novel. It is perfect in the rarest way: it provides an individual apprehension of man's nature. The artistic expression is flawless, although the content is strange and baffling (Allen 223).

This is a little better, but it is still an example of plagiarism. Even though an attempt has been made to indicate the source, we cannot tell which words were copied directly. (Remember: just because you move the word order around a little or leave a word or two out, that does not make it your writing or your ideas. You still have to document.)

Student Version C:

Walter Allen insists that the "artistic expression" of Wuthering Heights is flawless (223). Allen admits that the content is strange and even baffling, but he argues that the novel is perfect because it accurately presents "an intensely individual apprehension of the nature of man and life" (223).

Here the student has correctly handled the use of the original. Some words are rephrased, but those taken word for word are clearly marked. Also, it is clear what source is being used.

- ❖ Plagiarism is using another person's ideas or words in your writing without giving him or her proper credit through documentation.
- ❖ All information that is paraphrased (or put in your own words) needs to be referenced.
- ❖ Every quotation must include a reference to the source. Introduce your speaker or source.
- ❖ Plagiarism will jeopardize successful completion of your paper.

Reflection Paper Guidelines

Every student must complete a Reflection paper, but each Pathway has slightly different requirements. Please read the description for the Pathway you chose, and indicate which Pathway you chose in your paper.

Pathway 1 – IB Diploma\APS\IB	Pathway 2 – Job Shadow/Internships	Pathway 3 – Skills and/or Products
Reflection Paper: 1-2 pages, successes and challenges - also a focus on takeaways: will you continue this activity/research in your future, incorporate the new skill into your future lives (why or why not). Also, what skills have you taken from the entire Senior Project process (project, paper, and portfolio) that you will be able to utilize after high school.	Reflection Paper: 1-2 pages discussing successes and challenges, what you learned, how it has changed your opinion of the profession and if you still plan to pursue that career in the future (why or why not). Also, what skills have you taken from the entire Senior Project process (project, paper, and portfolio) that you will be able to utilize after high school.	Reflection Paper: 1-2 pages discussing successes and challenges, with particular focus on what you took away from the process of learning this new skill, or creating this product. How will you utilize this knowledge going forward? What skills have you taken from the entire Senior Project process (project, paper, and portfolio) that you will be able to utilize after high school?

Tips for a successful paper:

1. Be honest but professional. Be detailed in your descriptions of the successes and challenges. Your paper should be authentic and sound like you, but still maintain a professional tone. Also, include all aspects from the rubric.
2. Your paper should be organized and flow – it should feel like a cohesive paper from start to finish.
3. Your paper should be free of grammatical errors.

Presentation Requirements and Guidelines

- You have worked hard all year, and you finally have an opportunity to shine as you present your Senior Project to your panel. This component of the Senior Project may seem nerve-wracking, but remember that the people at your presentation want to hear what you have to say and see you succeed.
- A Senior Project coordinator will schedule and set up your presentation AFTER your portfolio has been passed by your advisor AND filled out the google form emailed to you in April. Your panel will consist of three community members and/or teachers.
- You may want to invite your family, your mentor, and any other people who have an investment of time and energy in your Senior Project. Underclassmen will be attending to learn from your project as well.
- Once you are scheduled, make sure to visit the room you will be presenting in to see what the layout is. It would also be wise to double check any audio/visual equipment you may need and see a librarian asap if you need any equipment checked out for Senior Project day. It is YOUR responsibility to get this equipment in the correct room.
- First Impressions: Interesting subject matter isn't enough to guarantee the success of presentation. The speaker's appearance, posture, voice, eye contact, and gestures all contribute to the success or failure of a presentation.
- Appearance: It is important to look good and dress appropriately. Think of presentations as a job interview and dress accordingly. Don't overdress; this isn't the prom. Dress comfortably so that you look and feel good. Look professional! If your project requires a uniform or specific outfit (chef's jacket, a gi for Karate, etc.) that would be appropriate to wear during your presentation.

NO:
T-shirts
Baseball hats
Spaghetti straps
Strapless
Holes in clothing
Tight clothing
Shorts
Short skirts
Sneakers

- Posture: If possible, rest your notes on a desk or podium so that if you are nervous your notes don't quiver. Don't grab or lean on the podium, lean or sit on the desk in order to give yourself a sense of security. Try not to pace, shift your weight from one foot to another, and jingle coins or keys. You don't want your audience to pay so much attention to unrelated movement that they lose track of what you're saying.

- Eye Contact: Eye contact establishes a connection with the audience. Scan the room, looking right, left, and center. Eye contact can be reciprocated from the audience.
- Voice: Your voice conveys emotion and meaning in addition to the topic-related content. Use your voice to get and hold your audience's attention. As you practice, think about:
 - Pitch-vary pitch to convey meaning. People with continually high-pitched, low-pitched or monotonous voices are hard to listen to.
 - Volume-your audience must be able to hear you. Vary your volume so that everyone in the room can hear you at all times.
 - Pronunciation-make sure you can pronounce all the words in your presentation accurately. If
 - Enunciation-this refers to the clarity of your speech. Don't run words together or drop the ends of words. Watch out for continuous use of words that don't add to your presentation; for instance, as you practice, count the number of times you say "like" during your speech and try to eliminate that habit.
 - Rate-are you speaking too fast or too slow? Give your audience "think" time as you speak.
 - Pauses-don't be afraid of brief pauses and try not to fill them up with "uh," "okay," or "umm."
 - Tone-convey your enthusiasm for your topic with your tone of voice. Your tone will get your audience fired up about your topic.
- Practicing Your Presentation: Having good note cards and knowing your subject are still not enough preparation for an oral presentation. The more you practice, the more comfortable you'll be when you are standing in front of your audience. It is a good idea to try to practice in the room you will be presenting in. You should run through your entire presentation AT MINIMUM of 3 times before you present.

Sample Outline for Presentations

It is important to review the Presentation Evaluation Rubric to make sure you include all necessary elements in your presentation. The following is a suggested outline of a presentation.

YOUR PRESENTATION MUST BE A MINIMUM OF 15 MINUTES LONG OR YOU WILL BE ASKED TO RE-PRESENT!

1. Introduction – What about you led you to decide on this project, how did the process start. (5 min)

2. Activity Section: what steps did you take, and in what order, with plenty of visuals to accompany (8-10 minutes)

a. Challenges – during your activity section make sure to discuss what challenges you faced during this process and how you overcame them.

4. Learning Stretch/Future Applications (3-4 min) – It is crucial that you explain to your panel members how much you learned in this process, what you know now that you did not know before you started, and what you will ultimately take away from this project.

5. Questions

*If you feel it is appropriate to include your Portfolio Paper and that process in your presentation feel free to do so. Find a logical time in the flow of your presentation to put it in.

Thank You Letter Requirements

“Tell me and I forget. Teach me and I remember. Involve me and I learn.”

Benjamin Franklin

A Thank You Letter is a perfect opportunity to represent character and manners. It is important for you to pay respect to the people that are helping you reach your goals. People like to be thanked for the work they do.

Requirements:

- Thank You Letters should be legibly hand-written in ink, on a simple card with an envelope; or they should be typed on BSHS Letterhead and sealed in an envelope.
- Write a Thank you Letter to your Mentor, and have three copies of a form letter to give to Panel Members during your presentation.
- Address the letter professionally (Example: Dear Mr. Smith or Dear Panel Member,)
- Be heartfelt and meaningful with your words/thoughts
- Conclude the letter with a respectful salutation (Example: Sincerely, Respectfully)
- Provide your signature with an ink pen below your salutation
- Put the Thank You Letters (Mentor and Panel Member) in your Senior Project Portfolio to hand out during your presentation.

Mentor Letter

This letter should detail how the Mentor helped you, what you learned from them, and how you will apply your new knowledge in the future.

Panel Member Letter

Thank the member for volunteering their time to watch your presentation. Explain to them how you have grown and what you have learned throughout the Senior Project Process. Tell them what you plan to do with your new skills or knowledge and what your plans for the future are. Thank them again for supporting Big Sky High School students in this endeavor.
