PROBLEMS?

The most common problem, depending on your computer, is either a “script error” or an enabled “pop-up blocker.” If you can get as far as clicking on the book icon but get a pop-up dialog-box informing you there has been a script error or that pop-ups are blocked, then try the following:

- A. If you’re using EXPLORER as your web browser (nearly all PC’s)
 1. Close the pop-up dialog box.
 2. Simply click on the “Compatibility View icon” located next to the web-address bar at top of the web page. The icon looks like a sheet of paper ripped in half. (Go to “Help” on the Explorer bar, click “Search,” and type “compatibility view” to see a description of what this means and how it works.) Note: If you click on the compatibility-view icon a second time, you won’t be able to open the book!
 3. Now retry clicking the textbook icon on the Pearson site.
- B. If you’re using SAFARI as your web browser (nearly all Mac’s),
 - Either install and use Google Chrome as your browser software or ...
 - Disable the “pop-up blocker” on Safari. (This is most likely the problem.)

To disable a “pop-up blocker” on a Mac:

1. Open Safari web browser and click on the “Safari” menu in the upper left corner of the browser window.
2. Choose “Preferences” in the pull-down menu.
3. Click on the “Security” tab.
4. Uncheck the “Block pop-up windows” box and close the window.
5. Now retry clicking the textbook icon on the Pearson site.
